The Milwaukee News discovered Jenkins.
Jenkins is a small head, but nevertheless a head.

The Republican majority in the Maine Legislature is now 37. The majority against the Republican party last year was 12. This shows the amount of work the Republicans did in that State this year.

The New York Tribune calls Mr. Tilden, the "Great American Delinquent." He has attempted to rob the government of more taxes than any other man in the country; and yet he says "reform is necessary."

Mr. Tilden calls the attempt he and his nephew made to purchase the electoral votes of Florida, South Carolina, and Oregon, nothing but a "tattle-tallian." This is the mildest term he could invent to take the place of fraud.

General Butler has nominated himself three times for Governor this fall—representing the Labor-Greenbackers, the Butler Democrats, and the Butler Republicans.
It may be easy to get three nominations, but to get one election is a different thing.

From the Democratic papers in this State it appears that Jenkins is one of the greatest men of the time; that in ability, manliness and all that, he has hardly an equal and no superior. It is a wonder the Democrats did not find him before. They give him greater praise than they gave Mitchell and it is a little singular that some one did not think of him before the Convention went to Europe for a candidate.

The Milwaukee Sentinel thinks Mr.
Jenkins is admirably adapted for a Democratic candidate—being accustomed to defeat. He has either been a candidate or has been prominently mentioned for the offices of Assemblyman, County Judge, Circuit Judge, Supreme Judge, Member of Congress, Mayor, and Attorney-General, and never has been elected to one of them.
Having been so often defeated, it will not worry him much to get left behind by 15,000 or 20,000. He has no barrel the Democrats can tap, and therefore can not be bled by the State Committee.

It is claimed that Joe Rankin, who has been politically beheaded, has raised himself and his party. This charge does Joe wrong. He was not softer on the money question than the rank and file of the party. If he was in favor of soft money, hard money, irredeemable money, inflated money, or any kind of money, it was because his party was in favor of these kinds of money. He had no definite policy to pursue, neither had the Democratic party, and to summarily take the leadership of the party from him is unjust. Joe has made up his mind that he will not be one of the mourners at the Democratic funeral this fall.

Among all the booms of 1879 that which General Grant is making in San Francisco is unparalleled. We doubt if any city in this country was ever so wrought up with enthusiasm and pulled up by pride as "Frisco" when the Tokio arrived with General Grant. The whole city was in a feverish state of excitement. Illuminations were boundless, and men and cannon seemed to vie with each other as to which could make the most noise. The city never felt so generous, and men willingly paid any price for anything that would expand the boom. This is illustrated by the rumor of one of the Committee men when he was told that a hundred more carriages would have to be hired. "Damn a hundred," he said with contempt, "get a thousand." We noticed that Dennis Kearney was among those who could not restrain his enthusiasm.

The address given by President Hayes at Detroit, embracing as it does many carefully compiled statistics showing the returning prosperity of the country, has excited general comment. The Chicago Times, with its usual Ishmaelitic policy, tries to find fault with the authoritative figures there presented. It is forced to admit that the statements concerning the revival of manufacturing interests, the employment of labor heretofore idle, and some other facts of that nature, are to the point, and cannot be interpreted in any other manner than as indicating increasing prosperity, but the Times makes war upon the claim that the large increase of exports over imports has any such significance.
It of course admits the facts for they are indisputable, but draws from them far different conclusions from those of President Hayes, and the generality of statesmen and financiers. It endeavors to show that this excess of exports indicates only that this country, being a debtor nation, is paying its creditor nations, and concludes that this does not show any advancement toward prosperity. Admitting that this claim is true, the conclusion seems a strange one, and its fallacy is clear as sunlight, when practically applied, or when stripped of its verbose clothing. The Times claims that the nation is only paying its debts. If that be so, then it surely indicates returning prosperity. If, while holding our own, we can be squaring old scores, there must be money-making in order to do this. A debtor who has an income so increased that he can meet expenses and have a surplus with which to make payments on old debts has every reason for encouragement, and despite the grumblings of the Times, the people feel this, and are going forward with fresh zeal.

GENERAL GRANT.

His Grand Welcome Home by the People of the Pacific Slope—His Reception in San Francisco.

THE STEAMER APPROACHING.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Precisely at half-past 3, while the Committee were deliberating at the Palace Hotel about adjourning the reception over Sunday, the magic eleven bells, twice repeated, were sounded. Every member of the Committee at once rushed to his feet, and incoherent shouts were heard from all parts of the apartment. "They say we want another hundred carriages," said one. "Damn the carriages," said the Chairman; "hire a thousand," and the other members of the Reception Committee left the room and rushed downstairs. The news spread like wildfire. Every available hack was chartered, and in ten minutes several hundred people were at the Pacific Mail wharf, and saw the steamer approach.

It was 4 o'clock before this could be accomplished, and then the people POURED ONTO THE WHARF.

Precisely at 5 o'clock the first gun was fired, followed immediately after by a fog-horn.

When the Tokio first came into distinct view it was seen that she was heavily laden, and this at once explained her having arrived earlier. Ulysses Grant Jr., with the head officer and agent of the steamer, were the first to disembark.

FIRST TO BOARD THE CITY OF TOKIO.
The Committee followed, and then came Gen. McDowell, from the MacPherson with his staff, Gen. Kelton, Gen. Holabird, Col. Bachelder, Mayor Keeler and Capt.
Coster. A minute later the China steamed up, and amid the huzzas from over a thousand throats, Ulysses S. Grant stepped up to his parents.

Grant looked exceedingly well but has lost twenty eight pounds in weight since leaving Philadelphia. His first inquiries were for his absent children, his next for his letters.

Every eminence commanding the channel was black with the assembled thousands. Telegraph Hill was a living mass of human bodies. The highest beyond President, Clay street hill, the sea-wall at North Point, and every pierhead was

COVERED WITH SPECTATORS.
From every flagstaff in the city flags were flying, and the shipping along the city front was brilliantly decked with cannon, festooned flags and streamers. The impatient crowds that covered the hill-tops stood straining their eyes to catch the first glimpse of the Tokio. A hundred times the cry was raised, "There she comes," as chance arrivals came in view between the heads. It was half-past 5 o'clock when the boom of a heavy gun announced that the steamer was near at hand. Another gun and another followed in rapid succession.
Fort Point next joined in

CANNONADE FIRING with both casemate and barbets guns, the battery at Lime Point added its thunders to the voice of welcome. In a few moments the entrance to the harbor was veiled in wreaths of smoke, and as the batteries of Angel Island, Black Point and Alcatraz opened fire in succession, the whole channel was soon shrouded in clouds from their rapid discharges. For some time the position of the approaching ships could not be discerned, but shortly before six o'clock outlines of the huge hull of the City of Tokio loomed through the obscurity of the smoke and the rapidly-approaching shades of evening were lit up by flashes of guns, and in a few moments she glided into full view, surrounded by a fleet of steamers and tug boats with flags and crowded with guests, while the yacht squadron brought up the rear festooned from deck to truck with brilliant bunting.

CHEER AFTER CHEER burst from the assembled thousands as the vessels slowly rounded Telegraph Hill, and taken up by the crowd on the wharves.

THE RECEPTION.
By 7:30 General Grant and family disembarked from the Tokio. He was received by the Mayor, and made a brief response. The scene which followed, the completely unobscured description of the procession wound through the principal streets of the city was the grandest ever seen. The booming of the cannon

THE PLATFORM.

A Sound Document Put Forward by the Republican Convention.

The Course of the Democratic Party Shown Up and Denounced.

President Hayes Sustained and Thanked for His Persistent Efforts.

The Republicans of Wisconsin, by their representative assembled in state convention, declare their adherence to the following propositions:

FIRST.
The Republic of the United States is a nation, not a confederacy of sovereign states, and its government is clothed with a permanent authority for the regulation of all subjects of national concern.

SECOND.
The elections of members of Congress are national elections, and as such the whole country is interested in having them fairly and peaceably conducted, so that every voter may be afforded an opportunity to exercise his right of suffrage freely and without fear of personal violence, to vote once and only once at a given election, and to have his vote honestly counted and returned.

THIRD.
The refusal of a mere majority in Congress to make appropriations of money already collected by tax from the people for the ordinary and legitimate expenses of the government, with the purpose of compelling the president by such refusal to approve a measure which he regards as wise and sound, were revolutionary in principle, subversive of the constitution and deserving the condemnation of all good citizens.

FOURTH.
The practice of attaching what is popularly termed "political riders" to appropriation bills is vicious legislation, and should be prohibited.

FIFTH.
The thanks and grateful recognition of the people are due to President Hayes and to the Republican members of Congress for their firm and persistent resistance to the attempts made by the Democratic party to disarm the national government, on election days and to repeal all laws for protecting the security of the ballot box and providing for the detection and punishment of fraudulent voting.

SIXTH.
The successful resumption of specie payments has vindicated the wisdom of the Republican policy on that subject, and afforded a signal illustration of the lack of honesty and statesmanship which the Democratic party to oppose resumption, and to declare that it was impossible. It has already borne precious fruits in ensuring the government to find its debt at four per cent. interest, an economy of many millions per annum, in promoting a feeling of confidence and security that is already doing a powerful impulse to all business and industrial pursuits.
The interests of all classes of the people are best promoted by a currency necessary and respecting intrinsic value, such as we have at present, and bearing a fixed relation to the world's money of commerce. All attempts to modify the existing laws in a way to induce depreciation or fluctuations in the money of the country should meet with a firm and determined resistance.

SEVENTH.
That it is the duty of Congress to enact laws to carry out the provisions of the constitution, with its amendments, and secure to the people of the State the rights guaranteed by it, and that the laws, when enacted, are supreme and must be obeyed and enforced, and the recent attempts of the Democratic Congress to repeal and strike from the statute books such laws, some of which were placed there by our fathers, and have been enforced nearly a century, has no parallel in the history of the country.

EIGHTH.
That our Governor and State officers are entitled to the thanks and approval of the people for their wise and faithful administration of the public trusts committed to them.

ROBBERY.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 21.—M. R. Meyers, of the Black Hills, was robbed of money and valuables amounting to $1000 while stopping at the Kirby House. His room-mate, a nephew, is the guilty party. The latter escaped on an early train.

SMALL NOTES.

The West not Discriminated Against —An Official Statement.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Treasury-issues an official statement that there is no discrimination against the West in the way of the distribution of small notes; that the Chicago Sub-Treasury was supplied with them before New York, and had in addition $1,200,000 sent there for the convenience of the bank. The Treasury claims to be unable to issue small notes until a like quantity of notes of larger denomination have been redeemed.

SUICIDE.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 21.—A. S. Winant, a stranger here, was found drowned in the lake under circumstances indicating suicide. Before coming to this city he had stopped with Walter Shaver, Paulina street, Chicago. By a tag on a bunch of keys it appeared he was in some way connected with the New York Surrogate's office. A telegram to that office elicited a response from an uncle, B. P.
Fairchild, who requested them to hold the body until further orders. A gold watch and a small sum of money were found on his person. Thus far the motives for the step is unknown.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—Ed Meredith, a young lawyer, and son of Judge Meredith, of Richmond, Va., suicided at Kansas City, Mo., yesterday by shooting himself. Depression growing out of financial troubles, and sickness resulting from a spree, is said to be the cause of the act.

HUNG IN EFFIGY.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 21.—Dr. J. D. Plunket, President of the State Board of Health, was hung in effigy to-night, at the corner of Main and Madison streets. Attached to the caricature was a placard inscribed, "Up with Plunket; down with order No. 6."

and the whole, inside and out, was completely covered with evergreen massed solidly and trimmed closely. The most charming green bower one would wish to see in the heart of a great thronging city—for Toronto claims to number about 80,000 souls. This was, of course, erected in honor of the regality. The sides of the arches, solid green for some distance from the archway to the top which I have called a "roof," were decorated with appropriate mottoes, emblems and ornamentation. There were two other arches, single instead of quadruplicate, but none so handsome as the one mentioned. The vice-regal party while in Toronto occupy "Government House," which is the residence of the Governor of the Province of Ontario. The Governor, with his family and personal belongings, "moved out" and took up temporary abode at the Queen's Hotel during the Governor-General's stay. Whenever a member of the royal family visits a city in Canada, some one always moves out, to give their Highnesses an opportunity to exclusive occupancy with their party and servants and belongings. During the stay of the Prince of Wales in the city of Cobourg, when he was in this country, an acquaintance of ours who was then Postmaster-General, "moved out" for the future English King, and the move cost him about twenty thousand dollars. During the ten days' stay of the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess in Toronto, they have held several "drawing-rooms" and balls, fêtes and military reviews have been plentiful. Not only Toronto people, but very many from all parts of this province have taken this opportunity to pay their respects to the Queen's representatives in the second city of the Dominion. A number of people from the States have availed themselves of this opportunity to see what a Provincial fair was like, to take a view of Toronto, and get a look at a live princess. Every one I think, speaks in praise of all three. The "drawing-rooms" are very much like our Governor's, more elaborate receptions, except they are more formal and iron-clad. Some amusing incidents are related in connection with the stay of the Princess in Toronto. One was, that on one afternoon while the crowds of people were gathered and patiently waiting either side the entrance to the Government House, expecting that the Princess would make her appearance, she quietly slipped out at a side door and went out and visited several of the dry goods stores. The best of the joke was, as she went alone and in a quiet dress, even the tradesmen did not know their illustrious visitor. As she was entering her carriage at the Exposition grounds, one day, and old and poorly clad woman pushed forward to the carriage door and began to talk with the Princess. A soldier on guard tapped her on the shoulder requesting her to move on. "Let me alone," said she, "I am going to find what I wanted to say. And she did, too, the vice-regal party being pleasantly till she had done. Another time an old man leaned in at the carriage window while they were passing for a moment and cried out, "God bless your mother!"

Many things of interest are on exhibition at the Fair or Exposition as they prefer to term it. One rather gratifying feature to the real, Republican, blue blooded descendant of equal rights, is, that the stars and stripes wave over the machinery hall, where the balance of inventive genius and power takes root in the soil that feeds the bird of freedom, just dropping in to show Ontario Province what inventive genius can do. Among curious things that is to be found in the poultry department, the "glass hen." This "hen" is a sort of circular or octagonal box or case fitting over a base which contains four large nests of eggs. There are from one hundred and fifty to two hundred eggs in each nest. The eggs are kept at an even temperature and a current of electricity is constantly kept up in the machinery of the hen. The eggs are about as long in hatching as though mothered by a veritable hen with feathers. Visitors describe the early bird in its various stages of progress, from the time when the first peck of the bill makes a mark in the shell to the final appearance, as very curious. The poor little victim struggles out of the shell weak and hungry and as soon as he gets a sure foothold among the unborn at his feet, he climbs out into the vale of crumbs, where he weakly pecks his living. After a time he is removed into more congenial realms of gentle warmth and plenty to eat and in three weeks is sold, poor little slave. They go "through for a quarter" and sleep at that. I neglected to say that the sides of the hen are glass so that the curious inquirer may learn a description of this particular hen, I felt assured that only American genius could have brought such sure relief to the setting hen and I learned on inquiry that they had indeed not deceived me, for the owner of this bird without feathers was the owner as well of the patent thereof and was a "western man."

One of the pleasant incidents connected with the stay of the vice-regal party in Toronto was the visit from the Secretary of the Wisconsin Agricultural Society, Mr. J. H. Ross, who was a very capable man, and who was the guest of the vice-regal party from the 10th to the 12th inst., and had every attention shown him in accordance with his high position and his personal greatness. The "New England Society" gave and impromptu entertainment in honor of Mr. Secretary Ross, at the Ross house, where a very enjoyable time was passed. The Ross house is one of the two leading hotels in Toronto, and is kept by a man well known by Madison frequenters in Wisconsin, as once proprietor of the Park hotel in that city. Colonel Mark Irish—a great favorite there as he is also in Toronto.

En route to Suspension Bridge Secretary Ross passed through Hamilton, his train passing for a half hour at the station. Several leading gentlemen here called upon him in his car, being accompanied and introduced by the American Consul. All expressed themselves as much pleased with the affable and agreeable great man from the States.

Looking down giving you a glimpse of the vice-regal visitors while in Hamilton, but I have space to spare and I will postpone to another day and letter what more I would say of them.

MRS. FRANK LELAND.
